WHEN TO CALL 911

If someone develops emergency warnings for COVID-19 get medical attention immediately. A dangerous thing about this virus is that a person can quickly go from having relatively mild symptoms to a life-threatening condition when minutes count.

Emergency warning signs include*:

- Trouble breathing
- Persistent pain or pressure in the chest
- New confusion or inability to arouse
- Bluish lips or face

Have the person call 911 and tell the operator that they have, or think they might have COVID-19. If possible, put on a cloth face covering before medical help arrives.

*This list is not inclusive. A medical provider can evaluate other symptoms that are severe or concerning.
